Synopsis

Turn learning into a game and kids will want to play. Based on What Do You Stand For? For Kids by Barbara A. Lewis, this card game spotlights ten top character traits: Caring, Citizenship, Cooperation, Fairness, Forgiveness, Honesty, Relationships, Respect, Responsibility, and Safety. To win, players collect cards of each trait. Each card features a "What If" scenario or question about character that gets kids thinking about what they would do-and what they stand for. Meant to be played with adult supervision (a teacher, counselor, or youth worker familiar with character education themes), the game includes an insert with rules and basic character education concepts.

When I ordered these, I was slightly skeptical about how well they would influence my 7 year old daughter. Boy, was I pleasantly surprised! My daughter has been begging to play with these everyday and really relates to the stories and definitions. Sometimes, when she finds it hard to answer one of the questions, we role play the situation. Not only has it taught her a lot and made her realize a lot, it has also let me realize as her mother how absolutely brilliant she is and how much positive characteristics have already been instilled in her. I recommend this to anyone with kids 6-7+, I can also see this being helpful with preteens as well.

As an elementary school counselor, I love using these cards as discussion or story starters about character education! I recommend these for parents and educators alike who want to teach youngsters about good character!

I've got 3 boys in elementary school...it is a good teaching game!It's also a good way to spend some quality family time together.

This game is great for communicating with your kids. It's simple and not threatening (no real right or wrong answers) but gets kids to open up and talk about things that otherwise don't always find their way into the day to day conversations. It's also a game and we've had tons of fun playing.

Love these cards. It was a great addition to my tools for the population I work with. Unfortunately, I will have to reorder since these came up missing! :) Delivery and product description were as expected. Thanks!

Fantastic. Highly recommend. We love these card. They are fun to play with and kids don't even realize they are learning. Huge bonus. I imagine the book is good too, but if you are debating these or the book? Go with these!

I like these cards because they're simple for my little one and I to use. Each card is phrased in a way that promotes thoughtful responses. I highly recommend them.

Unique and fun game to play with the kidos I work with. They seem to enjoy it and learn from it. I have even had a few requests from kids to play it over. I would recommend this game if you work with kids and needing to work on character/values.
