Audubon National Parks Calendar 2014

Synopsis

America's treasures: a year of pristine national parks, each celebrated in dozens of full-color photographs. Comprising a total of 84 million acres, the National Parks system safeguards the nation's unspoiled wilderness for generations to come. Audubon National Parks is a breathtaking tribute to a dozen diverse and distinctive preserves—Grand Teton, Joshua Tree, Zion National Park—bringing their flora, fauna, and landscapes up close.

AWESOME nature wall calendar! The picture a day plus the monthly pictures are all vibrant colors, well-printed, and great to look at. It's quite a journey to take in some of these National Parks, but getting a great view on a daily and monthly basis really is uplifting. If you like nature and incredible views of our National Parks, then this Audubon 2014 wall calendar is for you, or a great gift.

Great calendar. The pictures are beautiful. I love that they have pics for each day and a bigger picture for the month. The boxes for each day are big enough to easily write what you need to. Calendar is on the larger size overall so make sure you have the space for it. Would def recommend.

All the local stores were out of satisfactory calendars. Next year I will go to first. Great variety of calendars at reasonable prices and of course quick, free delivery with Prime. I had made two trips to stores without finding a calendar that fit my needs. We don't always think about it but the gas alone cost me $4.42 (24 miles at 19 MPG and gas $3.50 per gallon) Doesn't take long for Prime to pay for itself and provide free access to movies and TV shows.

The pictures on this calendar are beautiful. But the calendar is very over-sized, making it hard to find a place to hang. And for people who like to write on their calendars, this is tough because there are pictures on many of the individual days.

Love this calendar - love the National Parks. A picture a day and still room to write. It takes me away. Wish it was sold 2014 going into 3 months of 2015 instead of the opposite. I buy calendars at the beginning of the year not in the middle or last quarter of the year. Would like 4 seasons in one of the National Parks.

Gifted this calendar to my parents. They really enjoy a new picture every day. They also like the fact that the numbers are large enough to see from across the room. Nice quality paper and a great price. Makes a great gift, too!

I love the Picture-a-Day wall calendars. They are all great quality. heavy weight paper. Each month features a location (for example, January is Joshua Tree National Park) and each day has an individual picture. I also ordered one for my Mom from a different series.

I love this calendar and have purchased it for the last 2-3 years. Great pictures, interesting info. At work when I need a respite, the pictures in this calendar take me ever so briefly to another place. Ahhhh. :)
