Customer Reviews

This small, approximately 4x6 book offers 51 pages of fun history for a broad range of young kids. There are a total of 2-4 sentences on each page and includes interesting historical facts and also instructions of what to do per page. So, either an adult or older child will have to be handy to read some of the instructions or the child will need to read fairly well to be able to do it on their own for very long. Some are connect the dot, get through a maze or find the 5 differences in a picture sort of thing so 1st and 2nd graders will have some lots of activities too, but they might need someone to read the instructions depending on the child's reading level. The answers are all found in the back pages of the book. To be able to complete the entire book you will need at least a an 8-16 count of crayons. There are only 3 pictures that say "color this."... Or "decorate this.."I'll attach some pictures and you can judge for yourself for the younger kids. Topics Include: Color the American flag-needs red white and blue crayons or colored pencils Use a code to spell the state that people went to for the Gold Rush Unscramble America's most historic home Unscramble the code for the "1st walk" that Neil Armstrong made Look for 5 things that changed in the picture of the Statue Of Liberty Help the Pony Express Rider though the maze to deliver the mail How many words can you make using the letters from AMERICAN 4 word Crossword.. Picture of a horse.. Word horse etc Use code to spell what kind of house Lincoln was born in Connect the dots to see what the 1st successful airplane looked like Take Washington through the maze to his horse, Nelson Johnny Appleseed etc find the tree with the most and least apples Draw a line to match up 8 different state abbreviations 6 word find puzzle

Oh boy.. was I shocked! The book is so little and then... after reading it... I like that it is little. Nice book for entertaining kids in the back seat of a car.

I got this book for my 9-year-old daughter. She enjoys word search books and is very interested in American History. She'll look at a word list, choose a word, and start spouting related information. It leads to some very interesting conversations! She enjoys the word searches in this book because they are a little more difficult than most puzzle books made for her age group, and she enjoys the challenge.

Love these little books -- they keep my 8 and 9-year-olds entertained at church.

it was to easy for my 5th graders

given as gifts
