Customer Reviews

Really not worth the money. The only picture is the one you see on the website which is actually the cover of the box which contains the actual calendar. the so-called calendar is actually just a bunch of small very thin paper sheets. Made of very very cheap paper, printed in black and white. The whole thing looks like a piece of crap. I could have done it myself better and cheaper by printing out a mere word processor document. The return will cost you almost as much as the "calendar". Don't waste your money on that product.

Each day brings a thought to reflect on. They help put many aspects of our turbulent lives in better perspective and are good reminders of what's really important in life.

Interesting Calendar, really like reading the message each day, very basic no pictures or colors but the content makes the calendar worth it

I buy one of these every year, that are always great, reading it daily helps my day go better and hopefully makes me a better person.

Everyone should have a daily dose of Dali! This calendar gives me a thought to meditate on throughout the day. Love it!

The Dalai Lama's philosophies about life are so helpful! I look forward to reading (and remembering) them each day.

You can't do much better than the wisdom of the Dalai Lama. Also, lots of white space to write calendar stuff on.
