Endangered Animals Dot-To-Dot

Synopsis

Kids will learn about dozens of endangered and rare animals, and draw their own--dot to dot! They use their imagination to color in the skin and fur with the color hints provided, and find out how big or small each animal is, its habitat, where it is endangered, and more. 38 animals are included, from the bald eagle to the white rhinoceros.

Customer Reviews

As a school based occupational therapist working with students, I found this workbook very helpful in several areas, including increasing visual attention and fine motor control of the pencil stroke, and improving ocular motor skills used in reading called saccades, where the eyes jump from one spot to the next. Children from ages 7 and up are very interested in these animals, and enjoy choosing which one they want to do. The numbered dots range from the 70s to over 110. Children are also able to read a biography of the animal on the opposite page of the picture, making it an overall interesting activity for the child and the adult!
